

Paul-Henri Lambert
University of Geneva

Paul-Henri Lambert is an international expert in vaccinology. As retired professor, he is associated with the Centre of Vaccinology at the University of Geneva. His particular interests are vaccination strategies and risk evaluation. He is chair of the Steering Committee of TBVI, and directs the International Advanced Course of Vaccinology (ADVAC). Prof Lambert has held academic positions in the US and Europe and has also been Chief of Vaccine Research and Development, WHO Global Programme for Vaccines and Immunisation. He is author of over 400 publications.